There was one question that arose during the discussion today that I'd like your take on. If the Co-Managers cannot agree on a starting model structure, how would the STT move forward and how does the concept of best available science play into that?

Thanks,
Rob

Rob, that's helpful.

Thank you,

We're still at an impasse and will resume discussions tomorrow, both among the tribes and then with the co-managers.

Good afternoon Rob,

Wondering if there was any progress made today with regard to base-period, objectives, v6.2 inputs, or a combination of these?

Interested to chat if there are developments.

Thanks,
